BRIEF SUMMARY

As a final year student B.tech in Information Technology, I am driven by strong passion for software engineering and aspire to become a successful software engineer. With my proficiency in programing languages like C++ and python allows me to write efficient and optimized code. I am well-versed in utilizing libraries such as NumPy and Pandas to process and analyze large datasets, enabling data-driven decision making. Additionally, my knowledge of web technologies including HTML, CSS and Bootstrap enables me to create visually appealing and user-friendly interfaces.
